Sir Peter Lumsden Recalled for Encouraging the Afghan Forces to Attack Russia.

Earl Dufferin Refuses to Rally Gladstone's Policy and the Indians Are Uneasy.

A Joint Consultation on the Afghan Question Results Favorable to Three Powers.

LUMSDEN

Encouraged the Afghans to Fight.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, May 11.—The military party in Russia continues to spread reports to the discredit of Europe. The latest is that the Russians captured at Penjdeh some of Lumsden's dispatches, proving that he encouraged the Afghans in the collision with the Russians. Copies of these documents were sent to the English cabinet and therefore Lumsden was recalled.

LET HIM LOOK.

LONDON, May 11.—A dispatch from Tehran says that the amir of Bokhara urges the shah of Persia to release Ayub Khan.

DENIED.

LONDON, May 11.—All telegrams from India deny the reported resignation of Lord Dufferin.

DUFFERIN SILENT.

CALCUTTA, May 11.—An official statement from Earl Dufferin, approving Gladstone's policy, would do much to reassure the republic here, but the victory remains silent.

A JOINT TALK.

LONDON, May 11.—In regard to the Afghan boundary question, Lord Granville said a conference upon the subject had been held between himself, the Earl of Kimberley, secretary for India, and Baron Dettmer, the Russian minister, at London, which resulted in an agreement perfectly satisfactory to England, Russia and Earl Dufferin.

PARIS, May 9.—The aggressive foreign policy which has had away in France for the past year or two appears to be upon its last legs now that an understanding has been reached with China by receding from the position so boldly assumed after the unfortunate Lung San affair. In depicting the Chinese version of the incident the French people recognize how little glory the French name has acquired and how little advantage the French arm have secured by the treasures squandered and the lives wasted in the recent military operations in Tonquin. The more they learn of the conquered regions the more they condemn the whole enterprise and the more skeptical they become as to any possible advantage that France is to reap from her remote and malarial possessions. People are apprehensive that the newly acquired districts will be no more profitable to the home treasury than has been the expensive colony of Cochinchina.

The settlement of the difficulty with China has had a tendency to direct public attention afresh to another foreign war, that in Madagascar, which has been dragging along without making an advancement for some time past. In 1882 France began operations against the Hova government, with a view to compelling this power to recognize the French right to exercise a protectorate over a large district of the northwestern portion of the island and to a certain extent over the whole country. Owing to the natural difficulties which beset the invaders, the deadly nature of the climate and the serious opposition offered by the natives, the French have accomplished so far next to nothing. It is believed the ministers are already engaged in proposing terms of peace, which will be acceptable to the Hova government. Such a course may strike a blow at French prestige, but there can be no doubt it will be immensely popular with the people.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 10.—It is reported that Prince Lobanoff Rasowsky, the Russian ambassador to Austria, is about to succeed M. de Giers as foreign minister. Prince Lobanoff was summoned from Vienna last March to advise the Russian government in regard to the Afghan frontier question, and he is known to hold strong anti-English views.

ON TRIAL.

By Cable to THE SENTINEL.

LONDON, May 11.—The trial of James G. Cunningham and Harry Burton, on a charge of treason and felony for alleged complicity in the dynamite outrages of Westminster hall and the Tower of London, was begun this morning in the central criminal court.

FIGHTING THE PLAGUE.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company Take Heroic Measures Against Cholera.

All the emigrants arriving in this country come west via Fort Wayne, over the Pennsylvania system. This company is preparing to fight the cholera, should it appear in this country this spring. The circulars sent out recently to all agents and baggage-masters of this company's immense system were not considered sufficiently precautions. They warned the employees of the danger in not having depots and baggage thoroughly inspected and disinfected, and especially enjoined that great care be taken lest disease germs might be carried through the country. The circulars have been followed by an order prescribing strict rules and health regulations, and regular inspectors are now passing along the lines making a thorough investigation. The work on the lines west of Pittsburgh commenced yesterday. "The sanitary inspection over the road has commenced, and it will be finished by May 31. The inspectors are authorized to call upon agents, master mechanics, foremen, yardmasters, conductors and others, to remedy anything objectionable."

A Heavy Increase in Shipments.

The shipments of flour grain and provisions from Chicago to eastern through stations by the pool lines during the week ending Saturday, May 9, amounted to 78,500 tons, against 51,788 tons during the preceding week, an increase of 26,712 tons. Shipments of flour decreased 178 tons, those of grain increased 25,930 tons, while those of provisions increased 900 tons. The Pittsburgh road carried 17,103, or 21.8 per cent., next to the largest. The Nickel Plate carried 5,718, or the third smallest per cent.

CINDERELLA.

The Hollywood Juvenile Opera company will appear at the Academy each evening this week in the operatic burlesque "Cinderella." The Toledo Commercial Telegram says: "Baby Clara as Cinderella and Master Dick as Prince Poppetti completely captured the audience. In their individual specialties they are simply irresistible and carry the hearts of their auditors by storm. The Misses Lizzie, Lottie and Essie Hollywood are exceedingly attractive and received a large share of the applause for their graceful dancing and sweet singing. The entertainment is one of the best ever seen in our city."

TRUE TO POLYGAMY.

Elder Cannon Sentenced Under the Edmunds Law.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 11.—When August Cannon was called up for sentence yesterday, he said he was conscious of having violated no law. His conscience was serene. He had obeyed the Edmunds anti-polygamy law as he understood it, that is, while living in the same house with his wives, he had had intercourse with but one. He was gratified to hear the court say the law had made all his children equal heirs.

He thought in view of this fact it was unjust to hold a man criminal for eating with them and their mothers at the table. He would now submit and bow to the decree of the court, trusting to be able to bear up under any sentence it might inflict, in such a manner as to give evidence to his children that he had not lost his manhood. Mr. Cannon's speech received great applause, which the marshals had to check.

A Restless Night for General Grant.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

NEW YORK, May 11.—During the early part of last night General Grant experienced considerable pain in his throat and was restless. Soon after midnight he slept but the sleep was not continuous. He awakened at intervals and food was given him through the night. It was ten this morning before he aroused for the day, and was dressed. He had slept about the usual number of hours, though the sleep had been interrupted as stated. During the forenoon General Grant turned his attention to his book and did some work upon it.

MONTREAL, May 11.—There was great excitement in the city to-day on the occasion of the garrison artillery leaving for the northwest. Rail has backing from the United States.

REBELLIOUS RIEL.

Fights a Battle With Middleton's Forces.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

WINNIPEG, May 10.—A report has been received from the frontier to the effect that a battle between Middleton's forces and Riel at Batouche has been raging since yesterday morning. It began by cannonading the log and earth works of Riel by Middleton's artillery corps. The result so far is thought to be a drawn battle. An attempt will probably be made when marks have been reduced to storm the position simultaneously on the front and back; when frightful fatalities are likely to result as the enemy are well armed and deadly in aim.

BATOUCHE CROSSING VIA CLARKS CROSSING, May 9. We left camp at 6 o'clock this morning leaving all supplies and tents behind. We marched seven miles without seeing or hearing anything of the enemy. The morning was bright and warm. Suddenly there came a sound of a steamer's whistle blowing continuously. As we drew near we heard the sound of heavy firing on our front in the direction of the river. Our line of march was as follows: First Boulton's scouts, accompanied by a galling gun, the grenadiers formed the advance guard with a battery; the Ninetieth battalion supported them with the Winnipeg battery and the midland battalion in reserve. The gun steamers scouts and galling gun then pushed rapidly ahead and soon came upon two houses near the bank of the river, which were very precipitous. An advanced party of rebels were met, which fired and retired behind a house towards a hollow.

The galling gun was brought to bear on them. When they ran into a house near the church of St. Laurent, which was also fired on by the galling gun, when they ran out into the bush. "A" battery by this time came up with a rush and got into position, sending several shells after the rebels. The grenadiers now advanced, marching steadily into action, deployed into line, continuing to advance in skirmishing order till the trench was reached, when a priest came out of a house waving a white flag. Gen. Middleton and staff advanced and shook hands, when three other priests, and five sisters of charity came out. A number of half breed children were also in charge of the sisters. Father Manlin informed me that the steamer arrived at a point little above Batouche at 3.30 a. m. The rebels immediately commenced firing on her from both banks. She shortly after struck on a mud bank but swung clear again and just before our arrival passed the crossing. He also said that the rebels had six killed and twelve wounded at Fish creek. We just got a glimpse of the steamer down the river. She must have had a hard fire, as her smoke-stack was gone. The grenadiers advanced skirmishing through the bush on the right of the trail, the Gatling being pushed forward down the declivity toward Batouche, now plainly visible in the valley below. Here the battery climbed on top of the ridge sending shells into them, and while doing so were almost surprised by a number of rebels who crept up through the bush, not being discovered until but twenty yards distant. They made a rush for the guns, firing and yelling as they ran. Captain Howard who operated the Gatling gun saw the danger, ran the gun a couple of yards in front of the battery, and opening fire literally mowed the rebels down. Those remaining turned and ran from the gun reaching the shelter of the bush. They opened fire again and Howard escaped from injury was something marvellous, bullets flying all around him. He gallantly maintained his position however and the rebels unable to stand the terrible fire retired to pits constructed in a ravine running from the river. Our line was now as follows: Forty-first and 15th companies of the Midland, with the Winnipeg battery supported by "E," and "G" companies of the 90th in the centre and extending across to the right where the grenadiers were supported on the left by "H" company of the 90th, on the right centre by "I" company of the 90th and on the extreme right by "F," and "A" company's. "A" battery occupied the left centre, afterwards returning to the right rear. 11 a. m. as I now write, Capt. French with his scouts and part of the dismounted men of "A" battery are down in the ravine. The firing is now continuous on the left and center, but scattered on the right. After a gallant but vain effort to drive the rebels from the rifle pits French's scouts and the battery-men retired. The wounded are now coming in.

At noon the list of killed and wounded on our side is as follows: "A" battery—Gunner Phillips shot through the stomach; Thomas J. Stout run over by gun carriage, not fatal; private Chappattier shot through both legs, one fractured; Gunners Fairbanks and Tooley were also shot in the legs. Grenadiers—Captain Mason, company 2, slight wound in thigh. French's Scouts—R. Cook, slightly wounded in the leg; Carly Alden in the shoulder.

2 p. m.—The rebels' fire has gradually ceased, the troops, however, are still keeping up a scattered fire along the line gradually, so slackening until 4 p. m. when only a few occasional shots were heard. No more of our troops were hurt. William Bryce, lately a prisoner of Riel's, but who escaped on Tuesday, was brought in by the scouts. He says that Riel's force is a little over 400, half of whom were on the other side of the river when he left. He also says that when ammunition was served to the rebels only one keg of powder remained and bullets were also scarce. The women and children had been sent to the other side of the river and the prisoners were safe as far as he knew. Hinkele is not with Riel but has been sent for. Riel, Dumont, Garneau and other leaders are in Riel's camp.

6 o'clock p. m.—Boulton's horses have gone back to our camp to bring up all the wagons and supplies. We camp to-night here, General Middleton being determined to hold the position. Captain Young has just climbed on the roof of the church and described a body of Indians on a level near the river bank and about a mile away. The Winnipeg battery was at once ordered out and sent several well directed shells, scattering them immediately. The firing has now entirely ceased, but may be resumed at any moment. No news has been received from the steamer, but she keeps blowing her whistle. The sound apparently comes from two or three miles down the river. Early in the morning crowds of women, children and mounted men were seen hurrying into the brush on the other side of the river. The weather has been warm and bright all day.

6.30 p. m. A body of rebels just opened fire from the bluff near the ravine on our left front, evidently on our skirmishers. They have fired three volleys but are shooting too high to reach us. The Winnipeg battery are shelling the houses in the distance, where large numbers of rebels are gathered. A second shell crashed through the first house, and the rebels rushed out. Another shell blows the roof off the house beyond. As the dispatches leave the scattered firing goes on. We expect to clean out the rebels to-morrow, and communicate with the boat later.

The lane of Frank Mangoren, the successful grocer and Miss Carrie Fry, a very pretty girl, were published at the Cathedral yesterday.

The Harrodsburg Train Robber Arrested at Terre Haute.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 11.—The guilt of the recent robbery of the express safe and the murderous assault on the messenger and baggage-master is apparently fixed on William Wright, whose parents reside near Harrodsburg. Wright was in the regular army and had also been a cowboy in Texas. He left home on the day of the robbery, and answers the description of the robber in every particular.

Weber, the baggage-master, feels confident he is the man, having seen a photograph. A dispatch has been received from Terre Haute announcing the arrest of Wright there. The city marshal of Bloomington started after him immediately. He will arrive here to-day. Weber will be here to see if he can identify him. If pronounced guilty the probabilities are that he will be lynched.

A WOMAN'S SCORE

Overtakes Frank Slaughter at La Otto, Ind.

Frank Slaughter used to live in this city and clerked for Mr. Bushing, on Main street. During his stay he met Miss Eliza Dossler, the daughter of Christ Dossler, one of the wealthiest men in St. Joe township. He tickled Eliza's ear with the old story of love and now she mourns. Slaughter betrayed the girl and left the city. She came to town Saturday and proceeding to La Otto swore out a warrant for Slaughter's arrest. The young man was found in the village, and gave bonds for his appearance next Wednesday, when Miss Dossler will confront him with her child. Her people have asked the man to right the wrong done the young woman but he is deaf to their intreaties. This story of deception and perfidy has oft been told, but victims grow no less.

Francesca da Rimini.

Lawrence Barrett has the honor of having played to the smallest and largest assemblages ever seen before the footlights in Fort Wayne. His engagement Saturday night was a phenomenal success, and, as Manager Simonson put it, "He played to the largest audience that ever assembled in the Temple." "Francesca da Rimini" is intensely interesting and in every line of Mr. Barrett's work the genius of Dante is visible. Mr. Barrett was Lanciotto, the hunchback, but he did not conform his deformities to the requirements of the play. Probably it was as well, however, as it made him look more the great soldier of Rimini. To heal a breach between the Guelphs and Ghibellines he is persuaded to marry Francesca, the prettiest woman in Italy. His brother goes for the bride, and from the altar Lanciotto is called to war. Hearing of the treachery of his wife he returns to kill her, his brother and himself. The play offers Mr. Barrett a great field to display his powers, and although some like him better in Richieu, it is scarcely possible to conceive him to better advantage. Mr. Barrett is studious and artful in every word he utters.

Louis James divided the honors with Mr. Barrett and as public, the Jester, he was at his best.

Maria Wainwright made a charming Francesca and was bewitching in the love scenes, that Paolo did not mar by his harsh reading.

A CARD from Edith Thompson.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., May 7, 1885.

To the Public: I have suffered from female weakness, pain in my side and liver and kidneys, and have doctored for years, until my life was despaired of. The doctors I had gave me no relief, and I was then advised to give Dr. West's Alternative Tonic, and the result is that in ten days I found the greatest relief, and in four weeks was well and hearty and had a good appetite. Thanks to Dr. West. The sufferers will do well to try him. Any one wishing to see me may call at 40 Chicago St., Fort Wayne.

EDITH THOMPSON.

About eighteen months ago I received a very dangerous injury from a fall from the Hanna street sewer. I have been treated since by a number of physicians, all of which did me no good. About four weeks since I met Dr. J. West, whose care I have been under, and today I am sound and well. Yours,

HENRY HARRIS.
